Meet The Team

Beck Edwards - Director

I started Off2Africa back in 2001. Growing up on the edge of Hwange National Park captivated my childhood with the wonder of Africa's wildlife and how it truly restores the soul.

Privilege has allowed me to travel extensively in Southern and East Africa, and I can honestly say it's impossible to tire of the amazing, contrasting continent that Africa is! It's thrilling to offer the opportunity of safaris to others from across the planet and I am totally convinced that tourism is critical to improving Africa's drastic unemployment, reducing poverty & conserving its great wildlife reserves.

On a personal note I am enthralled with being in true wilderness – in 2009 I initiated a 5-day hike, unsupported, across the breadth of Hwange National Park. There were places we revelled in that no man had previously seen or been through, and that is just part of the essence of extraordinary Africa. Now I intentionally arrange guided hikes with friends every 2 years across different parks, and these remain highlights of my life.

I look forward to welcoming you to the world's most exciting continent!

Tiffany Amira - Travel Specialist

I was born and bred in Zimbabwe and have been fortunate enough to see the beauty that it has to offer in many of its different regions. I knew I wanted to be in the Travel and Tourism side of things from a very young age.

I completed a Travel and Tourism diploma at school and from there went and did three years at Hotel School in Cape Town. I worked in hospitality for quite a few years, but decided to return to travel as I felt this is where my passion lies.

I am really excited to be able to offer people the opportunity to travel and see the amazing country I call home, as well as other parts of Africa. I truly believe this is the best continent, and I'm thrilled to invite people to experience it, and share it with the world!"

Craig Roberts - Travel Specialist

I was born in Zimbabwe and have lived in Africa all my life! I love the beauty, the people, the wildlife and the climate. As a family, we try to visit as many places in Africa as we can, from the bush to the beach, the mountains to the savannah.

I would love a holiday in Africa to be on the top of everyone's bucket list - and to that end I help with the digital marketing aspects of Off2Africa. My goal is to share the wonderful opportunities of travel in Africa with as many people as possible.

They say that once Africa is in your blood, you can't get rid of it - that is true for me and I hope for any of you who travel with us.

I believe there is no sickness of the heart too great it cannot be cured by a dose of Africa. Families must go there to learn why they belong together on this earth, adolescents to discover humility, lovers to plumb old but untried wells of passion, honeymooners to seal marriages with a shared sense of bafflement, those shopworn with life to find a tonic for futility, the aged to recognize a symmetry to twilight.

I know this all sounds a bit much, but if I have ever seen magic, it has been in Africa.”

- John Heminway, African Journeys

Victoria Falls

One of the 7 Wonders of the World

One of the greatest attractions in the world, the Victoria Falls is not to be missed. The Falls and tourist town of Victoria Falls are situated in the western most part of Zimbabwe. The mighty Zambezi River is 1.7 km wide at the point where it plunges from a maximum height of 107 metres into the gorge below.

Known by the locals as “Mosi oa Tunya” meaning “the smoke that thunders” there are actually five separate falls that make up the Victoria Falls. This is the world’s largest falling sheet of water – during the flood stage between March and May as much as 5 million cubic metres per minute pass over the edge into the chasm creating spray often as high as 500 metres up into the air. The walk through the rainforest (which can be very wet) provides some of the best views of the Falls.

Any journey into the heart of Gonarezhou begins with the realisation that this is wild country. It is one of Africa's last remaining pristine wildernesses and we are all privileged to be a visitor here. This is a country of red sandstone, thorny scrub and baobabs. Buffalo gather at watering holes, big cats prowl silently in pursuit of painted impala, hippo wallow midstream attended by squadrons of fluttering birds. The presence of elephants is everywhere as their families travel along routes passed from one matriarch to another in search of food, safety, and water.
